

EITHER AND OR
Adam Overton, Nov 2005

.....

Perform some all or [n]one
Once or repeatedly
In any order
In any fashion
For any duration (perhaps forever)
Somewhere

.....

Forget something
Forget someone
Forget somebody

Remember something
Remember someone
Remember somebody

[Re-]Teach someone something
[Re-]Teach something something (for Yves Klein)
[Re-]Teach yourself something

[De-]Introduce yourself to someone [De-]Introduce someone to somebody

Listen to someone - and remember
 or forget

Listen to somebody -
 and remember
 or forget

Listen to yourself -
 and remember
 or forget

Listen to yourbody -
 and remember
 or forget

Say something and mean it - Admit immediately (and out loud) if you believe what you have just said and meant

Stop blaming someone Stop blaming somebody
Stop blaming something
